

MEDIA RELEASE

DO THE MAJOR PARTIES DELIVER GOOD POLICY FOR EARLY CHILDHOOD?

27.6.16

ACCS has assessed the policies of the major parties against the ACCS platform for the federal election.

Our scorecard shows that once again the Greens are well ahead of the ALP and the Coalition trails behind. But none of the parties fully delivers what we believe is good policy for Australia's children.

So there is more work to be done after the election by those who believe in the right of Australia's children to access quality, not for profit, community children's services.

The full scorecard can be viewed here:

<http://ausccs.org.au/wp-content/uploads/2016/06/2016electionscorecard-1.pdf>
